THE PROJECT

FOSS4SMEs will develop an ECVET training course on how SMEs can profit from using Free and Open Source Software (FOSS). This training course will support SMEs in improving their digital competitiveness.

The course will be freely available on a distant learning platform and be tailored in scope and length so that managers and staff of SMEs can learn how to adopt FOSS in their organisation in an effective manner.

The project will also develop a policy recommendation report for decision-makers and training providers to promote an open environment for the adoption of FOSS among European SMEs.
