

Director (Payment Approval)
Office of the Treasury –
Inland Revenue Tax Office
London Head Quarters,
United Kingdom

The Treasury office of the Department of Revenue Service London here in United Kingdom, has investigated your fund which has been on transfer process for some time now, during the just concluded general Auditors meeting in the HM Treasury, the office of the auditing and fund recovery unit has recovered your fund to the tune of GBP£2,000,000.00, which was to be paid to you through bank-to-bank transfer.

After the meeting the HM Treasury decides that all recovered and returned fund should be paid to their various beneficiaries within 21 days starting from today. This decision was taking by the Board of the auditors and the External Affairs in the Department of Revenue Service London (Office of the Treasury) and at present your fund is in the escrow account of the HSBC Bank London.

It was discover by the investigation team that the fund was acquired by you as a result of initial inheritance of fund, in which an agent here in London was supposed to facilitate the release of the fund into your bank account in your country sometimes ago but until now you have not received the fund due to the fact that the Revenue Service Department and some other finance entities requested for some payment, including the Inland Revenue Tax.

However, the Department of Revenue Service London has signed the released of your fund, and it has also decided that your fund should be paid out to you without any further delay. For your full identification and completion of your payment, you are hereby advised to send to our agent with (Citizens Finance Corp London) your full information as stated below:
